NOTICE.

OFFICE OF A. L. FEXER,
CHEBOYGAN, Oct. 13, 1883.

TO THE PUBLIC:

For some time past our attention has been called to the pretensions of one of our competitors to selling THE ROCKFORD WATCH, a fact which has since has been sustained by advertisements to that effect. We have done business here for the past fifteen years, in which time we have endeavored to meet the wants of our patrons with Honest Goods at Fair Prices, without neglecting the deference due to our competitors, by honoring their Rights and thereby meriting a recognition of our own.

Now our rights have been infringed on, and it is but in their defense we publish this circular. The sale of THE ROCKFORD WATCH belongs to us by all rights of Mercantile Honesty, in proof whereof we submit the following copy of certificate, which will explain itself:

OFFICE OF THE ROCKFORD WATCH CO.,
ROCKFORD, ILL., Jan. 1, '83.

This is to certify, that we have appointed A. L. FEXER Sole agent for the sale of the ROCKFORD QUICK TRAIN RAILROAD WATCHES in Cheboygan, Mich., and that we will to the fullest extent, sustain the usual warranty given by him to purchasers of our Movements.

No warranty attaches to these goods when offered for sale by others than our duly appointed agents.

ROCKFORD WATCH CO.,
PER H. P. HOLLAND, Sec'y.

As the Company sells its Goods to its duly appointed Agents only, and prevents its Agents from supplying other Dealers, our would-be Competitor can but have THE ROCKFORDS, if he has them at all, at second hand.

Thanking those of our Competitors who have continued to favor us with their good will, and the Public for the liberal share of patronage extended to us in the past, and trusting to merit a continuance of the same, we remain,

Respectfully yours,

A. L. FEXER,

Agent for Rockford Watch Co.

NORTHERN TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1883.

The Late Elections.

The Democratic party is successful in Ohio. The canvass turned more on the liquor issues than on any other question. There were two propositions, one to regulate the license, and traffic in liquor the second to prohibit the traffic in liquor. It is not the time to discuss these matters, but from the heavy vote polled it is evident this question has a deep hold of the popular mind. The Republican party accepted these issues affirmatively. It has been defeated, but its spirit is in no wise impaired by the result. What ever it assumes it does so with a bold and steady front. As to the bearing of this election on the presidency, any such conclusion is remote and fanciful.

The presidential election and the issues to be made cannot be foreseen. The country is prosperous, the temper of the people even and healthful, internal improvements everywhere going on, these evidence the calm repose of wisely administered laws. There is nothing in the way of the Republican party. Sturdy of growth, inherent of vigor, wise in policy, it will, when the time comes, shape a course for the judgment of the people, and in that judgment there is an abiding trust. The result in Ohio will have one effect and that is the union of all elements to oppose Democracy. Ohio is not lost to the Republican party, only in this election. When the national contest opens she will be heard from in no indistinct way, upholding a party that has made us one nation, great in every way, peaceful and happy. Partisanship is no longer an organizing force to muster under the whip the voter. Principle is largely more influential than ever, judgement, popular judgement is keener and sounder. The elections of last Tuesday in Ohio and Iowa are proof of the strength and vigor of the Republican party. In Iowa, opposition of every shade and color was encountered and overthrown. In Ohio, the Democratic majority is several thousand less than the preceding election. Taking a view of the whole field, noting the especial condition of German opinion on the liquor question in Ohio, there is nothing to show waning nerve in the purpose of the Republican party. It is yet the master of the popular impulse, and shirks nothing to merit success.

Good Time Coming.

On Tuesday, Oct. 30, will be given under the auspices of the Ladies of the Independent Church, the grand entertainment, Fan Brigade, composed of 22 of our beautiful girls whose ages range from 7 years to 13, costumed in Queen Anne's style with court trains, presents a scene of bright fairies, followed by the Red Ridinghood Operetta. The characters are among the best talent of our town. A great deal of time and pains have been taken to render this well, and we do not hesitate to state that all will be delighted with it. A few other exercises, with good vocal music, will be interspersed. Further particulars will be given.

It is not generally known that Joseph Cochran, superintendent of Smith & Adams' planing mill and sash and door factory, is the inventor and patentee of a clamping machine in successful use in that busy shop. It is so arranged that the sash, blinds and doors are in all their parts pressed, and uniformly so. A single stroke of the lever, down, does the job; bringing the same upright, relieves it. There is nothing in use like it, and it is believed it will come into universal favor as it can be adjusted for all sizes. The frame is a simple casting, the power is derived from two shafts and four eccentrics, the whole being operated by the motion of the lever.

We are in receipt of the marriage card of Miss Sadie M. Miner to Wilbur F. Reed, at Hubbardston, Mich., Thursday, October 11th, 1883. The bride is a sister of H. J. Miner, and made many acquaintances during her visit here this last summer all of whom will wish her and companion many years of happiness.

The weather of the week mixed but mostly delightful.

The schooner Higgle arrived yesterday and is loading lumber at McArthur's pier for Chicago.

The schooner E. B. Maxwell arrived yesterday and is loading lumber for Chicago from J. B. McArthur's mill.

Wolverine.
[The following should have appeared last week but was received too late. Ed.] Geo. Hancock is erecting a fine new residence.

The voice of Birds-Eye Maple Simpson is heard again in the land. Mrs. E. C. Eck, of the township of Mentor, has engaged to teach the winter term of our district school.

A little fracas occurred between Alex McPhee and the proprietor of shingle mill the other night which resulted in nothing but a good deal of loud talk and some say a little feeling around for hip pockets, which made each other turn pale.

Twenty-five new dwellings are needed here to accommodate the fast increasing population that is rushing to this second Leadville, as the Democrat correspondent put it last week.

Wolverine has a full fledged telegraph operator and freight agent, certain evidence of prosperity.

Jasper Muholland returned from Jackson on the third inst. and is now residing on his homestead in Mentor; he also made a flying trip to the extreme south eastern part of the state just before coming home. People here suspect a certain black eyed resorter that stopped around hereabouts last summer, had something to do with said trip.

Changes in Postage.

In view of the new two-cent postage law having taken effect so recently, the following concise statement from the Cleveland, O., Herald, of the changes that have been made in the United States in the rates of postage will doubtless interest the most of the readers of the TRIBUNE:

The single letter-rate of postage, as fixed by the first act of Congress passed on that subject, in 1792, was from six to twenty-five cents, according to distance. For every double letter a double rate was charged, and for every tripple letter a tripple rate. In 1845 the single rate was reduced to five cents for a distance not exceeding three hundred miles, and ten cents for distances greater than three hundred miles. In 1851 the single rate was fixed at three cents, when prepaid, for distances not exceeding 3,000 miles, and when not prepaid, five cents. For distances exceeding 3,000 miles the rates were doubled. In 1863 the three-cent single rate, for all distances, on letters not exceeding a half ounce in weight, was established. A temporary loss of revenue resulted from the principal reductions which have been named, but was speedily followed by a large increase.

Agricultural Society—Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Cheboygan County Agricultural Society will be held at the Town Hall next Saturday, Oct. 20, at 1 o'clock p. m. Every member of the society is interested in this meeting, as officers for the ensuing year are to be elected and other important business to be transacted. Let there be a full attendance. H. J. MINER, Sec'y.

PERSONAL.

FRED SMOLK arrived home Monday looking well.

W. E. SMYTH of St. Ignace spent Sunday in the village.

MRS. FEXER was called to Detroit by the death of a sister last Saturday.

MISS LIDA RICHEY leaves Monday for Sonora, California, to make that place her home.

Wm. RINDSKOFF started for Detroit Tuesday night for a visit with his friends.

F. T. LENT, agent for Friedrich Bros., general music dealers, Grand Rapids, is in the village.

C. W. FARR went to Detroit on the City of Mackinac Thursday night. He will return on the same steamer Monday.

JUDGE E. S. B. SUTTON, of Sault Ste Marie arrived in the village Wednesday on his way home from Marquette. The TRIBUNE acknowledges a pleasant call.

A. B. KEZAR, of Lake City, Minnesota, is visiting his brother, H. H. Kezar. He visited his brother last season for the first time in fifteen years and enjoyed himself so well that he repeats the visit.

Why they Call Him "Old Man."

"Yes, that's sadly so," said Jenkins, "my hair is turning gray and falling out before its time. Use something? I would, but most hair restorers are dangerous." "True," answered his friend, "but Parker's Hair Balsam is as harmless as it is effective. I've tried it and know. Give the Balsam a show and the boys will soon stop calling you 'Old Man Jenkins.'" It never fails to restore the original color to gray or faded hair. Richly perfumed, an elegant dressing. aug11

Churches begin at 7 p. m.

Capt. H. F. Todd is still confined to his home with rheumatism.

They expect to raise the bell in the tower at the Town Hall next week.

ESQUIRE HANSEN, of Barry, Mich., favored the TRIBUNE with a call Monday evening.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the M. E. Chapel on Thursday, Oct. 18th, at 3 p. m.

L. A. Parcell's drug store is a neat, trim and tasty affair. The windows show the art of arrangement. They are brilliant.

Sam Taylor caught one of his roosters crowing over the Ohio election yesterday morning and it made him so mad he killed the "cuss" and had him served for dinner.

We understand there is likely to be a change in the deputies at the postoffice. Will Zorn taking the place of Archie Chisholm. Archie has made a faithful and accommodating deputy P. M.

W. B. Miller informs us that hereafter, commencing with last night, a red light will be exposed on the pier at the entrance of the harbor. Captains claim that they often mistook the white light for a vessel light. The change to red will obviate that trouble.

The tug Mary A. Day brought up three tons of fresh white fish from S. F. Tolma's Hammond's bay fishery. They were shipped to Detroit.

Thursday evening W. B. Miller laid in a supply of beefsteak for his Friday morning's breakfast and placed the same in the ice house at McArthur's dock. Yesterday morning upon going for his steak he found some one had been there before him and confiscated his meat. They had broken in the lower door and helped themselves to the meat and also a crock of butter.

The Ohio election was for the past few days a matter of lively interest to several of our citizens. Many despatches were received. Talk was animated but in the finest spirit. The liquor question was in two forms, viz: one to regulate the other to prohibit the traffic in intoxicating liquors. Both issues were favored by the Republicans.

The "Aftermath" society held a meeting, and it was decided that the society would furnish stained glass windows for the Congregational church. They have a considerable amount in the treasury already, and propose giving a series of entertainments during the winter to provide such sums as may be lacking.

Our fellow townsman James J. Brown will favor, by special request, the citizens of St. Ignace and Mackinac with an evening's readings next week, appearing at St. Ignace Tuesday evening and at Mackinac on the evening following. Mr. Brown is a pleasant and accomplished reader, excelling many of the professionals, and our neighbors may anticipate genuine pleasure in listening to him. We have no doubt but that he will be greeted by large audiences at both places.

MARRIED.

Married, on Monday, Oct. 8th, inst., at the residence of the bride's parents, in Inverness Tp., by the Rev. James H. Magoffin, Rector of St. James', Cheboygan, Miss Sarah H. Fitzpatrick to Mr. John H. Tuttle, both of Inverness Tp.

Married, in Cheboygan, on Monday, Oct. 9th inst., by the Rev. James H. Magoffin, Rector of St. James', Miss Mary J. Sweet to Mr. George Quintal, both of Cheboygan.
